WANTS CASE DISMISSED

Charge of Land Frauds for Second Time.

Muskogee, Okla., Aug. 16.—Attorneys for Governor Haskell and five other defendants, indicted in connection with the alleged Muskogee town lot frauds, today filed motions in the federal court to quash the indictments setting forth a number of sensational allegations against five grand jurors and United States Marshal Victor.
Should Governor Haskell be successful in this attempt to invalidate the action of the grand jury that brought the indictments against him it is a question of how the government will proceed against him.
This is the second time that the Haskell matter has been brought to the courts. The first time Governor Haskell succeeded in finding a flaw in the proceedings and secured the throwing of the case out of court.

BOSTON THE CENTER OF THE MIMIC WAR ACTIVITY

CIVIL WAR IN MASSACHUSETTS.

Map showing points where initial assault may be made and war area. Also Gen. Wood, who is umpire in the campaign against Boston. Shaded field is region in which "War Game" will occur. Groups of ships opposite Plymouth and New Bedford show where invading enemy may possibly succeed in landing troops.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 16.—Eastern Massachusetts is today the scene of a war which started August 14th—a rather real war, in which almost as many troops as composed the entire regular army of the United States will participate. It is not expected that there will be any real fatalities, but cities will be seized and surrendered, lines of battle will be formed, engagements will be fought and huge armies will declare afterward that many lives have been lost—thousands.
Only about 6,500 members of the Massachusetts militia will form Boston's defending force, while fully 10,000 men from other states will make the attack.
Regulars and militiamen from several states will be engaged to the number of 16,000. There will be transports to bring an invading army, battleships to cover their landing, defenders to repel the attacks, and all the details of war except the actual wounds of conflict.
The exact scene of the invasion is not known to anyone as yet, nor will it be to anyone except the officers commanding the invaders until the actual landing of troops is attempted. It will be the duty of the defenders to guard all the coast from New Bedford to Boston, and a landing may be made at any point between those cities. It is general belief, because of the strength of the defenses in Boston harbor and the size of the city of New Bedford, that no attempt will be made to seize either city from the water.
If an army succeeds in landing somewhere on the South Shore, it is probable that an attempt will be made to seize the Boston fortification from the landward side. This is expected by military authorities to be one of the most interesting problems of the war.
The invading troops including between 7,000 and 10,000 men, will embark at New York and put to sea. Their commander will select his place of attack and endeavor to land his soldiers, just as an enemy might do in time of real war.
Fourteen tons of fresh beef, eight tons of canned corn beef, three tons of bacon, 23 tons of "hardtack," 10 tons of soft bread, nine tons of canned baked beans, 12 tons of potatoes, two tons of prunes, two tons of eggs, one ton of evaporated milk and nearly five tons of sugar will be necessary to feed the Massachusetts militia during the eight days of the coming maneuvers.
The rations for the troops will follow in every particular as to quality and quantity those supplied to the regular army, but Commissary General James G. White, who has full charge of feeding the men, has called for bids for these quantities of food, and if he can get them at the same price they are supplied to the regulars he will buy direct, instead of requisitioning the government for them. It is estimated that it will cost the state of Massachusetts $100,000 a day for this war game.

FOOTBALL RULES SLIGHTLY ALTERED

Forward Pass is Practically the Same as Last Year—Value of Field Goal.

That harbingers of fall, the official football guide, will make its first appearance tomorrow.

Changes in the rules have been few. Those who control the destinies of the game, realizing that the existing rules have proven most satisfactory, have declined to make radical alterations and when the book is issued tomorrow it will be found that the tinkering was done more with an idea of clarifying the existing rules, particularly their phraseology than with the intention of changing the style of play that proved so popular last autumn.

The Forward Pass.

Opponents of the forward pass have been numerous with the result that this much mooted question occupied considerable time of the national committee, but after long deliberation the decision was to leave the rule practically as it has been in the past. The only change in the forward pass section was to better designate the particular players who are eligible to receive the ball when it is thrown.

Next season a man must be clearly one yard back of the neutral zone or at the end of the scrimmage line before he will be qualified to participate in the play. This conservative treatment of the clause is considered quite a victory of the western delegation to the conference which opposed the suggestion of some of the eastern men to change the play by tossing the ball directly over the line instead of five yards out from where the ball is snapped.

Counts Three Points.

During the coming campaign a goal from the field will count but three points. The reduction in the value of this particular play is likely to meet with the unanimous approval of all coaches and players except those who are blessed with a player with a well-drilled toe upon whom the team depends for its scores. With the premium on a goal from the field lessened this form of scoring will probably be less popular and will encourage the rushing game. Had there been an tinkering with this rule, it would still be possible for decidedly weak teams to trim stronger rivals via the drop or place kick route. As it now stands, however, a well-balanced team is not at the mercy of an individual when his team is unable to get within thirty or forty yards of the goal.

Win on Merit.

By this alteration the board did not intend to encourage the old concentration of attack, which proved so grueling in the old days, but simply to have matters so evened that a well-rounded team can win on its merit.

Last fall it was mandatory for a defending side, after a touchback, to punt out from the twenty-five yard line, but in the future it will be optional with a scrimmage or kick. This is intended to discourage the practice on windy days to punt the ball over the goal line, forcing the opposing side to kick into the goal and have a full catch made, from which an attempt at goal from the field might be made within a reasonable distance.

For years the rule covering the putting of ball into play by a center was that should any of the attacking side, except the snapback make a false move there should be a penalty, but few saw the "joker" through which a center by a bulk or false movement of the elbows, could pull all the opposing forward off side and escape punishment while the defensive side be set back five yards.

Blocking Kicks.

The play was particularly effective when the defense, in trying to block a punt or drop kick, was over anxious to get through. All the line men would be ready, and as soon as they saw the center how his elbows would come tearing through with the almost inviolable result of an offside or interference penalty.

The other changes in the rules seem to be of but minor importance. In addition to making a close study of the whole set of rules the national board, through a special committee has completely revised the list of officials who are recommended.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY STORM IN AFTON

Trees Uprooted And Telegraph Poles
Felled—Silos on Farm Was Blown Down.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Afton, Aug. 16.—Quite a bit of damage was done in Afton and vicinity by the storm which swept down from the northwest, with such suddenness and fury yesterday afternoon. The rain fell in sheets, while the wind approached a tornado in strength and velocity, uprooting sturdy oaks, that had withstood the storms of years, and playing havoc with other trees less rugged. So far as learned, the only building blown down was the new silo on the farm formerly owned by W. J. Miller, and now occupied by Martin Swain. Here in the village, fruit and shade trees were badly damaged, some being uprooted, while others had large branches broken and twisted off. Six telegraph poles in the C. & N. W. Ry. yards here were blown over, carrying down the wires and blocking the main street crossing, until Section Foreman Edward Hammett got busy with a force of men and railed the wires sufficiently to allow trains to pass. Some poles were also blown over on the line between Afton and Janesville. No damage from hail occurred by the immediate vicinity, but reports from farther north and east indicate some injury to crops, to be sure suffering the most.

COMMERCIAL CONGRESS ON; IMPORTANT QUESTION UP

Denver Entertains Trans-Mississippi
Meeting—Twentieth Session of Organization.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 16.—With a program so elastic that the delegates may talk about anything that suits them except politics, the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress reconvened today in this city where it held its second meeting in 1901.

Secretary Arthur F. Francis was busy all morning greeting the hundreds of delegates. They include representatives of states, cities, chambers of commerce, boards of trade, commercial clubs, manufacturing, mining, mercantile and traffic, live stock, immigration, irrigation, maritime, drainage and waterways improvement associations.

President Thomas F. Walsh of Denver called the opening session to order in the Auditorium. It was given up mainly to welcoming speeches and responses and an outline of what the congress hoped to talk about and to accomplish.

Among the important matters up for careful consideration is the question of closer commercial relations with the Latin republics, with special reference to the early completion of the Panama canal. Director Barrett of the International Bureau of American Republics is here with representatives of the Latin-American legations to take a hand in this discussion. Hawaii, too, is represented by delegates who will ask for vigorous action on behalf of immigration and public land laws.

"National Defense" has a place on the program because of the pressing necessities of the Pacific coast in the matter of adequate naval facilities, and the question of a liberal policy toward the merchant marine also is on the list.

Of course conservation of the forests and the public domain will attract much attention, and it is expected the resulting discussions will be lively. Irrigation, waterways, drainage, dry-farming, parcels post, postal savings banks and many other topics are to be threshed out by the speakers before the congress.

Boston, Aug. 16.—Boston to-day is besieged by an army as the threatened attack which was reported to Gov. Draper Saturday has been started.

In accordance with the rules laid down by the war department at Washington Gov. Draper at once called upon Adj. Gen. Brigham to defend Boston against the threatened attack, and some 7,000 troops were ordered to the front under the command of Brig. Gen. Pow.

It was, of course, known to all parties that the attacking force consisted of several companies of the United States coast artillery from the forts in and about New York, and a number of regiments of militia from Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and the District of Columbia, under the command of Maj. Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, U. S. A.

Boston Sufficiently Protected?

The sham battles which will be fought in Bristol and Plymouth counties this week between the Blue army of defense and the Red army of attack, whose forces were assembled to-day, will demonstrate whether Massachusetts, and especially Boston, is sufficiently protected against a foreign foe.

It has already been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the military authorities of the country that no hostile fleet can successfully run past the forts in Boston harbor, and the object of the present maneuvers is to ascertain whether such a foe could successfully make a rear attack upon the city.

Must Land from Transports.

The rules for the present game provide that the attacking force must be landed from transports under the supposition that no American battle fleet was off shore to prevent its approach. It also was provided that while the Massachusetts authorities were notified of the immediate presence of the enemy, the strength of the force and its disposition could not be ascertained, as all telephone and telegraph wires were theoretically cut at 8 a. m. to-day. It was, therefore, Gen. Pow's duty today to assemble his army and locate the enemy by such means as would obtain in actual warfare.

Correspondents Keep Secret.

At the request of the military authorities, the small army of war correspondents in the field with both forces, abstained to-day from giving the exact location of the different regiments, but while carrying out the wishes of the military experts it is not violating any confidence to state that the troops from all over the state were rushed to southern Massachusetts, and that the vanguard of the attacking force, under Gen. Bliss of the regular army, actually landed on the shore of Bristol county and that the regiments from Connecticut, New York, New Jersey and the District of Columbia were expected to disembark before night.

Invading Army Lands.

Unofficial dispatches received in this city brought the news that a large part of the invading army had landed somewhere on the coast of Buzzards' bay, and had started inland. According to these dispatches the first troops came on the steamers Puritan, Pilgrim, Boston and City of Taunton and the army transports McClellan, Sumner and Meade. The forces include cavalry, infantry, artillery corps and signal corps, with horses and impedimenta. Residents along the coast in great numbers watched the debarkation of the "hostile" forces with intense interest.

CUBAN PRISONS IMPROVED.

Minister Tells American Convention of Work on the Island.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 16.—One of the most interesting addresses to-day before the American Prison association, which began its annual congress Saturday night, was delivered by Gen. Carlos Garcia Velez, Cuban minister to the United States. He told his hearers at some length of the great progress made in late years in prison and reformatory work in Cuba.

Other papers heard to-day were the annual address of E. P. Morgan of Richmond, Va., president of the Warden's association; "The Indiana Plan," by Dr. H. C. Sharp of Indianapolis; "These Men Are Going Out Sometime," by J. C. Sanders, warden of the Iowa state penitentiary, and "Country Jails," by W. A. Gates of San Francisco. The report of the committee on discharged prisoners was received and discussed.

Predict End of Drought.

Washington, Aug. 16.—Present conditions indicate that the drought in the corn growing sections of Kansas, Missouri and central and southern Illinois will be broken about the middle of the present week, and that the rains of that period will extend over the entire corn and spring wheat districts.

SOUTH DAKOTA'S GIFT TO WARSHIP IGNORED

Silver Service Bought for Armored Cruiser Remains Unboxed and Unclaimed Five Years.

Washington, Aug. 16.—When the armored cruiser South Dakota was commissioned five years ago the people of the state for which the vessel is named dug down into their pockets and purchased a silver service for its table. The gift never has been accepted and the reason therefor has not been explained.

Capt. James T. Smith, commanding the cruiser may have the pretty silver set for the making. He hasn't asked yet and the people of North Dakota are beginning to think it strange. There is some indignation and the navy department feels an unpleasant incident.

When in 1901 it was decided by the department to name a cruiser for South Dakota the pride of the people of that new and thriving state was so aroused that they at once decided to follow the example of other states and present a silver service to ornament the messroom of the new war engine. In 1904, long before the craft was ready to be put afloat, the gift was made by the governor of the state with a request that as soon as the vessel was placed in commission the silver be sent aboard.

In 1908, the South Dakota was commissioned. The gift of the people of the state for which she was named appears to have been forgotten. The silver service had been boxed and stored in the New York navy yard. "There it is supposed to be to-day. No one seems to be especially charged with the duty of delivering it to the vessel."

The people of South Dakota have become restive under what they regard as the indifference shown toward their generosity.

The South Dakota is now on the Atlantic coast and the handsome silver service can be had for the asking.

QUAKE CRUMBLES MOUNTAIN.

Many Killed and Injured by a Tremor in Japan.

Tokyo, Aug. 16.—Reports of the earthquake in central Japan Saturday afternoon show that there were many fatalities and that great damage was done to property. The dead at present is said to be 30, though it is feared that the fatalities will be greatly increased in the outlying districts when heard from. The number of persons injured is 82. Thus far 362 buildings, including many temples, are reported to have been destroyed and more than one thousand others badly damaged. The shock affected a wide area in the Shiga and Gifu prefectures. The town of Ozaka, in Gifu, suffered terribly. The banks of the Iida river there broke and the surrounding country was inundated. The people of the district fled to high ground. The mountain peak, a short distance west of Gifu, emitted smoke in the early stages of the earthquake and then collapsed with a thunderous roar. The formation of the mountain was completely changed.

HOTEL MEN MEET IN OMAHA.

Northwestern Landlords Have Gay
Time in Nebraska Metropolis.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 16.—Seldom has Omaha entertained a livelier and happier lot of men and women than those who have come for the annual convention of the Northwestern Hotel Men's association. The men have a good deal of business to attend to, and began it this afternoon, but neither they nor their wives will overlook any opportunities for a jolly time during the three days of the convention. The fun begins this evening, when the men will witness an initiation of the Knights of Ak-Kar-Ben and the women will have an automobile ride. Tomorrow, after the business sessions, the visitors will go in automobiles to Council Bluffs and Lake Manawa. On Wednesday there will be more auto rides and the convention will close with a big banquet.

FLAMES SINK OCEAN LINER.

Lucania Is Badly Damaged by Fire at Liverpool.

Liverpool, Aug. 16.—The Cunard line's steamer Lucania lies submerged at the Huddleson dock, seriously damaged, having been almost destroyed by fire Saturday evening. The flames are supposed to have originated in the saloon kitchen.

The second-class quarters and the whole after part of the boat, including the engine room, escaped injury from the flames and comparatively little damage was done to the exterior of the vessel. Her upper body is considerably above water. The first saloon skylights were destroyed and the decks forward are badly buckled. Some of the plates of the hull were warped by the heat. The repairs to the Lucania will occupy considerable time.

National Fraternal Congress.

Boston, Aug. 16.—Gov. Draper and Mayor Hibbard to-day welcomed the delegates to the twenty-third meeting of the National Fraternal congress when they assembled in the Hotel Somerset. Several responses were made and Hon. Alexander Fraser, president of the Canadian Fraternal association, delivered an address on "International Fraternalism." After to-day the general sessions will be held in the morning and the different sections will meet in the afternoon and evening. President Charles E. Piper is presiding.

"The Taste Lingers"

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Did you ever think of the happy "It might have been?"

"Of all sad words of tongue or pen,
The saddest are these, 'It might have been.'"

Lives there a man or woman who hasn't quoted that?

Whenever we make a wrong choice or by some chance just lose some pleasure, and looking back see how much happiness we have missed, we draw a long face and sigh, "It might have been."

But when we make the right choice, come to the fork of the road and take the wiser turn, by lucky chance full in with some good thing, how very, very few of us look back at the pain we missed and remember to say "It might have been."

It is the law of nature to forget pain or suffering very quickly.

To occasionally go against the law of nature and force ourselves to remember past unhappiness, in order to appreciate the present, is a mighty good thing.

A girl whom I know recently cut herself adrift from a position where she was earning very good money because she was not happy in the work and knew it was not the kind she ought to do. It needed courage to leave a certainty for an uncertainty, but she finally took the step and in a short time found the right place. Her present work exactly suits her. Most of the time she is perfectly happy. And when anything arises to trouble her—no deal with all of us—she applies an "It might have been" cure, though of course she doesn't call it that.

"The Pelham building does me lots of good," she told me the other day. "If I'm blue or not satisfied with anything, I go straight there—and I'm so thankful I am not working there any longer that I get over the blues right off."

"The little girl next door told me once that she often used to pretend when she came up the street that she was going to see a crape on her door so she would be happy that there really wasn't any."

Of course, that was rather a weird thing for a child to say, but I think it had a grain of wisdom—however unchildlike—in it.

One often hears someone who has had a death in the family say: "If I had only realized how happy I was before it happened." Might it not be almost worth while to pretend occasionally that some trouble has come upon us so that we may be glad in realizing that it hasn't?

It is not advisable, of course, to dwell on sad thoughts or painful memories, but it is a mighty good thing for any of us who are inclined to be dissatisfied or blue, to remember how often in our lives it has been true that:

"Of all good words of tongue or pen,
The best are these, 'It might have been.'"

TREES UPROOTED AT EVANSVILLE

Severe Wind And Rainstorm Yesterday Afternoon Did Considerable Damage in the County.
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Evansville, Wm., Aug. 16.—Considerable damage was done in Evansville and the surrounding country by the severe rain and windstorm which visited this section about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. In several instances shade trees fully a foot in diameter were snapped off or uprooted and a large 6x10 plate glass window in the Economy store was broken. At Dr. Colby's place the silo was moved six feet off its foundation. Many farm buildings were damaged, though none were wrecked, so far as is known. The storm came up suddenly and for several minutes the wind blew a gale, the sun shining all the while through the driving rain. Commencing with the rain-storm last Tuesday, this section has had showers at least once a day and the drought is a thing of the past. Farm crops have improved rapidly and all vegetation has taken a new start.

SOUTH HARMONY.
South Harmony, Aug. 16.—The long drought is broken and the frequent showers are much enjoyed. Mrs. E. H. Parker is entertaining her mother, Mrs. Youmans, of Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Roberts arrived last evening from their western trip. The other members of the party, Mr. and Mrs. Graves, and Mr. and Mrs. Bourman and daughter, will probably return the latter part of this week.

O. A. Mend, son of Mrs. Abigail Mohr, who has spent the past year in Maryland, is here on an extended visit.

Owing to the rain yesterday, the Sunday school picnic was not as successful as heretofore. About 200 were present, but no program was carried out; neither was there any ball game. Many from away were here, coming from Iowa, Illinois and nearby towns.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Edgerton, Aug. 14.—Nearly three thousand people were here Friday to witness the program of the T. A. & B. picnic, postponed from Wednesday. At 2:30 the races were called, each event being speedy and closely contested. Major Gantz, owned by W. H. Gantz of Madison, broke the track record in the free-for-all 116 time was 2:15.4. The following are the entries for the races.

The baseball game between the Chicago Union Giants (colored) and the Edgerton Giants resulted in the defeat of the locals. The Windy City players were a bit too fast for the Edgerton men, but Edgerton made them work hard for all of their honors. Short, for Edgerton, pitched the ball, the team working with him. Eleven men were retired by him.

WOODPECKERS WILL HAVE TO BE WATCHED

Doing Much Damage to Telephone and Telegraph Poles Through Out Country.

Considerable damage is being done to telephone, telegraph and electric light poles by members of the woodpecker family. These birds originally built their homes in the dead or dying trunks or limbs of trees, but for some reason best known to themselves, have come to the conclusion that the peeled poles offers better conditions for a home.

They have become so ravenous of late that their depredations are attracting considerable attention among those who are compelled to use quantities of wooden poles. Their activities spread over a wide portion of the United States, notably in the south, southwest and central west. Cedar poles seem to be the ones most frequently attacked. The birds bore into them at any height from the ground, and the holes which they make are often two or three inches in diameter and four or five inches deep. Such an amount of wood drilled from a stick of timber which is carrying a load of wires naturally weakens the strength of the line.

It would, of course, not be a difficult matter to exterminate these birds. However, this is not desirable, as they are among the most beneficial forms of bird life native to this country, because they destroy large numbers of insects which seriously damage forest and food crops. It is, therefore, that methods should be undertaken to compel the birds to revert to their former habit of boring rather than to exterminate them.

Frequent inquiries have been made by the forest service in this connection, but the only information to date which the government has been able to obtain is that on a casual inspection of treated and untreated poles in Louisiana. In that region it was found that poles which had been impregnated with creosote oil were not attacked by the birds, whereas untreated poles under the same conditions were very severely injured.

Whether or not creosote will prevent such attack is not definitely known, but the service is investigating this problem, and should this oil prove a preventative, it will fulfill a two-fold purpose: It will protect the poles from decay and destruction from animal life. In southern Indiana, some members of a traction company thought that they could prevent further destruction of their poles by filling the holes in the wood with stones. The birds, however, simply drilled around the stones and made conditions much worse. This apparently does not seem to be a means of preventing their depredations.

Messrs. Danecoler and Brown Given Severe Shock—Child Knocked Over by Flash.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Brodhead, Aug. 16.—During the thunder-storm on Thursday evening Messrs. Danecoler and W. Brown each were given quite a severe shock by lightning. Mrs. Dan's daughter, Miss Nina Clavon, was knocked over by the same flash. Many telephone and electric lights were put out of commission at the same evening in the eastern portion of the city.

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Burr in Saukville, Minn., Dr. and Mrs. A. N. Burr will occupy their house.

ed with Neenah all night. And day in, day out, he must attack at once," said Chase. "Quiet now!"

Five shadowy figures were distinguished in the darkness. The sense of sight had become keen during those trying hours in the darkness.

The islanders were conversing in low tones, a word or two now and then reaching the ears of the others.

Suddenly a blinding, mysterious light flashed upon the mattering group. As they fell back a voice, low and firm, called out to them:

"Not a sound or you die!"

Four unheeding riders were bearing upon the surprised islanders, and four very material men were advancing before them.

The Princess Geneva was standing before him, her hand touching her turban in salute.

ing from the gloomy darkness. An electric lantern shot a ray of light athwart the scene.

"Drop your guns—quick!" commanded Chase. "Don't make a row!"

Paralyzed with fear and amazement, the men obeyed.

While the three white men kept their covered with their rifles Solim ran to the gate, uttering the shrill cry of a night bird. There was a rush of feet inside the walls, subdued exclamations, then a glad cry.

"Quick!" cried Solim. The keys rattled in the locks, the bolts were thrown down, and an instant later Lady Deppingham was flying across the space which intervened between her and the gate.

The men were beside her a moment later, possessed of the weapons of the helpless sentinels. With a crash the gates were closed, and a joyous laugh rang out from the exultant throat of Hollingsworth Chase.

"By the Lord Harry, this is worth while!" he shouted. Outside the mad-dened guards were sounding the tury alarm. The first gray shade of day was coming into the night.

He saw Neenah ahead of him, standing still in the center of the graven path. Beyond her was the tall figure of a man.

"You are a trump, Neenah," cried Chase, hurrying up to her, "a Persian angel!"

It was not Neenah's laugh that replied. Chase gasped in amazement and then uttered a cry of joy.

The Princess Geneva, slim and erect, was standing before him, her hand touching her turban in true military salute, soft laughter rippling from her lips.

In the exuberance of joy he clasped that little hand and crushed it against his lips.

"You!" he exclaimed.

"She!" she warned. "I have retained my guard of honor."

He looked beyond her and beheld the tall, soldierly figure of a Bapp-Therberg guard.

"The devil!" fell involuntarily from his lips.

"Not at all! He is here to keep me from going to the devil!" she cried, merrily that he laughed aloud with her in the spirit of unbounded joy.

"Come! Let us run after the others. I want to run and dance and sing."

He still held her hand as they ran swiftly down the drive, followed closely by the faithful sergeant.

"You are an angel," he said in her ear. She laughed as she looked up into his face.

"Yes—a Persian angel," she cried. "It's so much easier to run well in a Persian angel's costume," she added.

NOT POLITICAL JOB. SAYS PRESIDENT

WILL LOSE JOBS IF THEY DO

President, in Letter to Secretary Nagel, Declares Workers Must Not Engage in Politics—Names 184 of the Supervisors.

Beverly, Mass., Aug. 10.—Any of the supervisors or enumerators employed in taking the census of the United States next year who engages in politics in any way will lose his job immediately declares President Taft in a letter to Charles Nagel, secretary of the department of commerce and labor.

Outside of casting their votes the president believes that census supervisors and enumerators should keep clear of anything that savors of politics, national, state or local.

The president orders that the secretary of commerce and labor and the director of the census embody in the regulations governing the taking of the census the rule so forcibly laid down in his letter.

Recommended by Congressmen.

Mr. Taft says in appointing census supervisors it has been found necessary to select men recommended by congressmen and congressmen in their districts. He says he realizes this method of selection might easily be perverted to political purposes and it is to take the census out of politics, so far as the actual work is concerned, that he has explicitly expressed his desire concerning the regulations.

In concluding his letter the president says:

"I wish to make this regulation as broad as possible, and wish it enforced without exception. It is of the highest importance that the census should be taken by men having only the single purpose of reaching a just and right result, and that the large amount of money to be expended in the employment of so vast a machine as the census shall not be made to serve the political purposes of anyone.

Has Appointed 184.

One hundred and thirty-four additional supervisors of the census were appointed yesterday. Altogether 184 of the 330 supervisors now have been commissioned and Mr. Taft's task is a little more than half completed.

HAIR "RAT" NOT STYLISH NOW.

Women Must Dress Themselves Simply, Says Lillian Russell.

New York, Aug. 10.—Miss Lillian Russell has returned from a trip abroad.

"Do you know, puffs and 'rats' are doomed forever," she asked, "and you must wear your own hair parted in the middle and draped over your ears and then brought around the head in a coil. Missing Girl Is Found.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Aug. 10.—Marguerite Huley, 12 years old, who disappeared last Thursday night from Mrs. Mary L. Fellows' boarding school at Oak Bank, on the west shore of Lake Geneva, was found last evening hidden in the home of S. C. Sheldon, a well digger at Williams Bay.

LATEST PICTURE OF KING LEOPOLD'S MORGANISTIC WIFE, ON WHOM HE IS SPENDING THE LUXURIES OF HIS WEALTH.

Brussels.—The many-sided, eccentric King Leopold of Belgium, after years of a popular reign, has at last aroused the wrath of the people by his attention to baroness de Vaughan and their son. Not only has he sold all the treasures presented to him for the people of Belgium, such as the Egyptian antiquities, presented by Ismail Pasha in 1884, his collection of pictures and works of art and in fact everything of value he could lay his hands on, but he has thrown overboard, financially at least, his daughter, Princess Louise, and settled them on the son born to the fascinating daughter of a French janitor.

has settled down in the Chateau Larmoy, near Paris, with the charming baroness and her child. Indignation runs more against the baroness than against the king, who has been so popular for so many years. It is generally thought that her beauty has so fascinated the aged monarch that he has acted more according to her dictates than his own best judgment.

It is King Leopold's earnest intention to secure up all available funds and divert them from his daughter and rightful heir, Princess Louise, and settle them on the son born to the fascinating daughter of a French janitor.

PRINTING THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT CROP REPORT IN SECRET.

ROBERT HOOVER IS NOW BEING SOUGHT

Former Resident of Manitowoc Is Held to Big Estate.

Manitowoc, Aug. 15.—Said to have been a resident of this county some years ago, Robert Hoover, a former resident of Cedar county, Iowa, is being sought for by attorneys who say in letters to county authorities that Hoover is heir to a large estate, embracing an improved farm and much real estate in Iowa. Hoover, who as a boy came here with his father after the latter was divorced from his wife, is said to have owned a farm in the county after the father met his death in a fire. The letter says it will be necessary for Hoover to contest a will but it can be easily broken. County officials have advertised to locate Hoover or his heirs. Atty. M. M. White of Ida Grove, Ia., wrote the letter here.

Though the ten evening session practically closed Saturday when the Wisconsin Cannery Co. closed its sub-station at New Denmark, the factory in this city will be operated most of the year in the future in the packing of pork and peas, a new product which has met a big demand. The company is working a large crew and will continue operations indefinitely, being unable to keep up with its orders. The two rivers factory of the company will also continue, packing corn and beans. Owing to continued warm, dry weather and the ravages of the pest house the crop here is only about 65 to 70 per cent of the average it is claimed.

Robert L. Murray, a west side man, is the second Manitowoc winner in Uncle Sam's big land lottery in the West, Murray having been one of the 2000 winners in the Flat Head reservation drawing in Montana Saturday. Murray, who registered while enroute to the Seattle Expo a short time ago, can claim a 16-acre farm at the government's price and will probably do so. Murray's number is 1760 of 2500, and is said at least 2000 will get land.

An epidemic of deaths appears to have seized upon local hospitals, a record of one death daily for several days resulting. Miss Ida Jensen was buried today on the twentieth anniversary of her birth, her death following an operation a few days ago. Mrs. Levy, of Chicago, here to visit her daughters, was taken suddenly ill and died a few hours after being removed to the hospital. The body was taken to Chicago today.

Promising to conform to the requirements of the ordinance to fireproof the building though it will cost more than the structure is worth, E. M. Platt has been given a permit to remove an old hotel building which he was halted in moving by passage of a new fire limit ordinance. The building has been permitted to stand on the street for two weeks but when Chief Kratz threatened to cause the owner trouble an agreement made permits the removal of the building and contractors are now at work.

MORGAN TROPHY IS STILL A DANGLING

Crucial 36-Hole Match Between Orion Sutherland and Stanley Tallman Ended in a Tie.

Finals in the Morgan cup contest were played off by Orion Sutherland and Stanley Tallman at the golf links yesterday but a gruelling 36-hole match failed to definitely determine who is the winner. There was some question as to the handicap of 5 on each 18 holes which the games committee allowed Mr. Tallman and also a dispute regarding the score on one of the holes. With the handicap of 4—one stroke each on 8th, 9th, 14th, 16th, and 17th holes—and the disputed score on the one hole decided in Mr. Tallman's favor, the match ended in a tie. In any event 18 more holes will have to be played on Tuesday to determine who is to succeed Fred Schuler as custodian of the beautiful silver mug during the next twelve months.

One week from tomorrow a new handicap contest for three fine trophies to be hung up by the Lewis

Knitting Co. will be inaugurated. One of the prizes will probably go to a lucky number, and indifferent players will have the same chance as the cracks. Qualifying scores must be handed to Chester Morse, who has consented to act as a member of the games committee, before the day set for the first 16 flight.

Tomorrow is club day and the usual supper and dancing party are on the program.

Statue to be erected next September in honor of Verrazano, the discoverer of the Hudson river.

Commandatore Ettore Ximenes at work on the model of the statue of Verrazano, which will be erected on Staten Island in New York harbor during the Hudson-Fulton celebration in September.

New York.—This fall when the United States celebrates with fitting ceremonies the anniversary of Henry Hudson's trip up the river which bears his name and the invention of the first steamboat by Fulton, there is to be another name honored—that of the celebrated Italian discoverer, Giovanni da Verrazano.

It was under the service of Francis I of France that the celebrated navigator is supposed to have made his first voyage to America. It was in 1492 that the fleet actually sailed and in 1524, judging from his own description and other facts which have been verified, he sailed up the coast from Charleston past Chesapeake bay and to a point which was unmistakably that of the bay of New York. His first descriptions are so vivid and other facts so completely bear out his word that there can be no question but that come time during the year 1524 he anchored in the port of what was later to be the greatest city on the continent. He describes the river, which was afterward named in honor of the man who first navigated it, Henry Hudson, as follows: "We found a very pleasant situation among some little steep hills, through which a very large river, deep at its mouth, forced its way to the sea. From the sea to the estuary of the river any ship might pass with the help of the tide, which rises eight feet."

Had he not been so bent on discovering a short route to India and had he been more inquisitive about this river, Verrazano's name would undoubtedly have been celebrated as the discoverer of the Hudson river instead of that of Henry Hudson, who made his memorable voyage in 1609.

Brief, Snappy News Items

All readers like them, seek them, are disappointed when they do not find 'em.

Did you ever stop to think of the extremely great news importance of the many separate items which constitute the Gazette's classified columns each day?

Did you ever stop to think that nearly every single one of these little items tells a brief, pointed, human interest story—that many of the hopes and anxieties and fears and wishes of this city are bound up with these classified ads every day?

Firms seeking employees, the unemployed seeking work, homeseekers in search of a fireside they may call their own, business men seeking patronage, articles of all kinds and descriptions offered for sale, flats and apartments for rent, and real estate developments which are transforming wild glens and meadows into homes, gardens and orchards, little announcements regarding horses and dogs and automobiles and boats and what not—and even then the kaleidoscopic character of the human quality of these pages is barely reflected.

Read them, study them—once you get the habit you will never cease.

The Most Popular Forms of Amusement Are the MOVING PICTURES

No Amusement industry in Years Has Met With Such Popular Favor

Three Reasons Why the Industry Has prospered to Such a Great Extent.

No Amusement is More Educational in Its Nature.

No Show is More Easily Understood.

Nothing Else So Popularly Priced.

Have you ever considered the educational value of the films shown every day in Janesville?

Tonight step into any of the Moving Picture Theatres and immediately you are transported into foreign lands. Possibly it is a trip up the Nile, a visit to South America, of the African Jungles. Again it might be New York City, of the Western plains, Mexico, Alaska—you know not where, you care not. You will be entertained—you know.

Something comical, something instructive, a drama, a Shakespearean tragedy. It matters not.

Regular patrons of the Moving Picture Theatres soon become as familiar with French Gendarmes as with our American police.

They recognize Asia, Russia, Africa, Spain, as quickly as the film is passed before them.

One wise move recently made by the manufacturers of films is an agreement to discontinue the use of films giving any suggestion of crime.

As a class the Moving Picture Theatres are welcome to Janesville, and entertain hundreds each night.

All theatres are cooled with electric fans, have comfortable chairs, are kept clean, and offer a pleasant way to spend an hour or so evenings or afternoons.

Come up town tonight and take in one or more. Nice people from all parts of the town do, and enjoy it immensely.
